Numismagram Newsletter #12 (XI/2018)

I'm sure that it seems like not that long ago, you were just receiving a newsletter from us here at Numismagram and, in fact, that would be the case. Our special mid/late-October upload of skulls and skeletons was a resounding success—as it normally is. We always look forward to presenting that kind of material and will be busy trying to acquire more of it for you. Speaking of seemingly not that long ago and a spooky theme, here is a picture of my wife and I from Halloween 2013, which seems like just yesterday. The adventures of Wolverine and the Artichoke...

As for news this month, our next show will be a local one, the San Francisco International Coin Show, which will be reviving the San Francisco Historical Bourse—a fun, relaxed show featuring some of the leading world and ancient coin dealers from around the country. It will be located at the same venue as the previous show—the Holiday Inn Golden Gateway at 1500 Van Ness Ave—on 30 November (10am–7pm) and 1 December (10am–5pm). If you are planning to be in attendance, please stop by our table to view all of our current offerings (along with a few pieces which will not yet, as of that time, be active on our site).

This month is also the 100th anniversary of the end of World War I, for which peace was achieved on 11 November 1918. While an alarming degree of the western world seems to be straying from liberal democracy and flirting with autocratic tendencies, it's only fitting that one revisit the carnage which can result when one rallies toward blind nationalism. Among our offerings in this month's upload are four WWI-related medals from the German and Austro-Hungarian perspective.

Additionally, we will be doing another mini upload later this month exclusively featuring silver medals with a World War I theme. Be on the lookout for those in a few short weeks.

The remainder of this offering presents a few highly artistic and popular Society of Medalists medals, a rare plaque on the topic of the Battle of the Bulge in WWII, a Zdeněk Burian silver piece sure to excite any dinosaur fan (especially if you like the T-Rex), a Zeppelin medal with Dr. Hugo Eckener, a couple highly attractive issues of Napoleon III, some architectural marvels focusing on the holy sites of Jerusalem, the Suez Canal, and the Bosphorus Bridge, and a mix of other attractive art medals.
